NEWPORT.

BY CHANSTON & NORMAN
144 THAMES STREET.

MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 3, 1853.

U.S. Aquidneck Hall (Rider's) was opened Friday evening by the Rev. James C. Richmond, who delivered a lecture on "How to speak English." There was a large audience in attendance, and the lecture was both instructive and amusing. Mr. Richmond is a highly educated and very accomplished man, and his lecture was received with universal approbation. The Hall will seat 1000 persons, and is fitted up in excellent style. Mr. Rider deserved great credit for his enterprise in this matter, and we trust that he will be amply compensated for his public spirit and energy.

We have before us a copy of the "Appleton Crescent," which contains the Charge to the Grand Jury, at the October Term of the Circuit Court, by the Hon. Stephen R. Cotton. Judge Cotton is the eldest son of Dr. Charles Cotton, of this city; he has resided in Wisconsin since 1842, and has recently been elected a Circuit Judge. It always affords us pleasure to announce the advancement of Newport boys, in whatever part of the world they may be located.

U.S. John Pitman, a son of the late Thomas G. Pitman, had about half of his left foot cut off, on Saturday, at the Steam Planing works of Mr. Moffit; he was employed in the shop, and attempted to kick some shavings away from the plane, when his foot was taken off. The wound was dressed by Drs. Cotton and J. V. and H. E. Turner.

The Rev. James C. Richmond will deliver a lecture at Aquidneck Hall, next Friday evening, at 7 o'clock, on the manners and customs of the Turks. Admission 12-1/2 cents.

The session of Congress will commence to-day at 12 o'clock; there will probably be some delay in the organization of the House, and it may be some days before the President's Message will be delivered.

The Court of Common Pleas adjourned Friday evening; a large number of cases were continued, in consequence of there not being time to try them, Judge Sherman having to preside in Providence this week.

In Milwaukee reporters are a "privileged class." The mayor has issued an order excluding them from the watch house!

U.S. Messrs. Leonard, Scott & Co. have republished the Edinburgh Magazine for October; it contains eleven valuable articles.

It is said that Robert O'Bleiss, just convicted in St. Louis for the murder of Benj. F. Blant, murdered a son of Gen. Leslie Combs, some years since, in the interior of Louisiana.

Mr. Brayton, of Buffalo, N. Y., has patented a machine for making nuts for screws. The whole operation is done in an instant, and the nut comes out perfectly smooth and true, and without any crook or flaws in the iron, the compressing of the bar while being cut making it perfectly solid.

Holloway's Pills may be taken with perfect safety by both sexes, and all ages, their effect being mild yet positive; their searching properties render them invaluable for the extirpation of every disease, particularly liver and stomach complaints; bilious disorders; and indigestion: As a purifier of the system, they are unequalled and their virtues in cases of determination of blood to the head, and asthmatic complaints, cannot be too highly commended; in short, by a perseverance with these admirable Pills, there are few complaints which can resist their extraordinary influence.

SALE OF THE CRYSTAL PALACE.—We understand that the trustees of the American Institute have determined to purchase the Crystal Palace, provided that they can procure from the Legislature the passage of an act authorizing the Common Council to lease them the ground for the term of twenty-five years.

Mme. Jenny Lind has just arrived in Paris, accompanied by her husband. She came from Geneva, where she appeared in a concert given for the benefit of Ernst, the violinist, and in another for the poor. She intends to remain in Paris for a fortnight, and then proceed to London.

The New Yorkers are talking of a monument to Washington 600 feet high on the Battery, surmounted by his statue—the whole to be of iron, and to be finished in ten years! The committee of the board of aldermen, it is said, have determined to report in favor of it.

A UNIVERSALIST AN INCOMPETENT WITNESS IN NORTH CAROLINA.—Recently in trial at Jackson, N. C., before Justice Judge Manly, held that a person professing the doctrine of Universalism was incompetent witness, and in opposition with that decision gave rise to much indignation among those who profess the doctrines of the Universalist Church, and from the proceedings of the late State convention of the denomination we find that the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

"Whereas, we have learned with surprise and regret through the public press that his honor Judge Manly, at the last Superior Court of Jackson, N. C., decided that Universalists are not competent witnesses in a court of justice; and whereas we believe such a decision is not only a flagrant outrage upon the increasing and respectable denomination of Christians called Universalists, but unconstitutional and inimical to this republican government; therefore, Resolved, That this Convention proceed forthwith to take such measures as they may deem expedient to have their claims and civil rights protected in this our boasted land of civil and religious liberty."

For the benefit of those who do not understand their faith, insert three articles of belief:

"We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament contain a revelation of the character of God, and of the duty, interest, and final destination of mankind. We believe there is one God, whose nature is love, revealed in our Lord Jesus Christ by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and believers ought to maintain order and practice good works, for these things are good and profitable unto men."

THE POOLE MURDER.—The trial of Lewis Baker was continued on Wednesday. The testimony elicited from the proprietor of Stanwix Hall and others who witnessed the affray, went to show that Turner, when he accidentally shot himself in the arm, fell, and then fired again, wounding Poole in the knee; that he staggered towards Baker, who clinched him, and when they had got near the wall Poole went down and was under Baker; Baker on one knee over him; he had a pistol in his hand which pointed to Poole's breast, and said, "I will take you, any way," and fired. This fact was positively sworn to, and the cross-examination did not shake the testimony in the least. The Court met again this morning at 11 o'clock; the jury proceeded at 10 o'clock, under charge of an officer, to view the premises where the murder was committed.

MONSOON BANK ALL RIGHT.—The Monson Bank, Mass., whose bills were a few days ago thrown out by the Suffolk Bank, is again all right. The Cashier (Mr. Flynn) had had no letters from the Suffolk Bank, and supposed that his account was good; and the first intimation which he received of any difficulty was a notice in the paper that his bills were discredited. He at once telegraphed that his account would be made good forthwith. The Bank is in a perfect sound condition, and is as strong and as well managed as any country Bank in New England.—Hartford Courant.

RATHER TOO HONEST.—At a late meeting of a country temperance association, members were asked to relate their experience in the effects of the new law. One aged and somewhat unsophisticated gentleman, on being implored to give his opinion on the subject of the local sale and use of liquor, said: "Well, I guess about all I can say is, that I used to buy rum for tew shillings a gallon, and now they tax me six, and it aint more'n half as good as it was wont to be, either." He was permitted to sit down.—N. H. Patriot.

A VIRTUOUS YOUNG LADY.—We heard a young lady the other day declare with the utmost positiveness that "she never would." What? Marry a man with red hair? No. Waltz with a wine bottle or promenade with a tobacco box? No. "That she never would in all her life write a book unless she had something to say!" In the midst of evil examples may she remain faithful to her early promise.—Life Illustrated.

GOLD MEDAL FOR CAPTAIN INGRAHAM.—A gold medal has been struck at the Philadelphia Mint after a design furnished by Captain Eastman of the army, under direction of a resolution by Congress, for presentation to Captain Ingraham, and was sent to the President yesterday. It weighs twenty seven ounces, costing six hundred dollars. The face represents the American and Austrian vessels at anchor before Smyrna, and the obverse has the following inscription on it: "Presented by the President of the United States to Commander Ingraham as a testimonial of the high esteem entertained by Congress of his gallant and judicious conduct on the 2d of July, 1853."

UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM TEXAS.—Hon. Thomas J. Rusk has been unanimously reelected, by the Legislature of Texas, United States Senator from that State.

THE PERPLEXED HOUSEKEEPER.

OF MRS. F. D. GAGE.

I wish I had a sharp pain!
Or hands slippery nimble;
I'd soon put all these things to rights—
The very deuce is in it!

Here's a big wrangling to be done,
One pair of hands to do it,
Sheets, shovels and stockings, nests and punts—
How will I ever get through it?

Dinner is got for six or more,
No loaf left over from Sunday;
And baby comes as he can live—
He's always so on Monday.

And there's the cream, 'tis getting sour,
And meat fresh with charring,
And here's the fish where a batter so—
Which way shall I be turning?

'Tis time the meat was in the pot,
The bread was worked for baking,
The clothes were taken from the boil—
Oh dear! the baby's waking.

Bash, bash! baby! there, bash bash!
I wish bid sleep a little;
Till I could rise and get some wood—
To hurry up that hands.

Oh dear! I P—comes home.
And finds things in this bother,
He'll just haggle and tell me all
About his tidy mother.

How nice her kitchen used to be,
Her dinner always ready—
Especially when the noon bell rang—
Hush, hush! dear little Freddy.

And then will come some hasty words—
Right now before I'm thinking—
They say that hasty words from wives
Set sober men a drinking.

New isn't that a great idea,
That men should take to rinsing
Because a weary, half-sick wife,
Can't always smile so winning?

When I was young I used to earn
My living without trouble,
Had clothes and pocket money, too,
And hours of leisure double.

I never dreamed of such a fate,
When I, a-late / was courted—
Wife, mother, nurse, seamstress, cook, housekeeper, chambermaid, hundreds, dairy woman and scrub generally—doing the work of six—

For the purpose of being supported!

PEASANT PRACTICE.—Mr. L—, the famous scene painter, had a fancy that he could cure all diseases, and accordingly prescribed liberally for his friends and others willing to fall under his hands. A person of great faith applied to him for a cure for very bad cold, and L—'s advice was:

"Do you see, sare, can you drink bran tea?"

"Brandy," replied the patient, nothing loth to find so palatable a medicine hinted, as he imagined. "Certainly, I have no objection to it whatever."

"Vy, then," said L—, "bran-tea is the very thing for you. Take tree, four—pes, four—cups of it, at hot as you can scoop good big tea-cups, just after breakfast!"

"What, sir?" asked the patient, rather amazed. "Without water?"

"Vidout water," said L—, "vat do you mean?" No more vater danish in the bran-tea venn made. Take it as you got it. Take four large, very large coops, between breakfast and dinner, and venu you find a change for better or worse, come to me."

The faith of the patient was great, and so was his swallow. For five days he stuck to what he thought was the prescription of the painter—was of course drunk all day—and at the conclusion of his exertions in this way, he came to L—; full of gratitude for his advice.

"I am quite cured; Mr. L—," said he, "I never imagined brandy was so complete a medicine; I feel quite obliged."

"Oh, yes," said Mr. L—, "I was sure it would cure you—you felt quite cool at the time you was taking it!"

"Cool," said the patient, "no, not exactly cool, I was rather hot, Zounds, no man can drink a quart of spirits in the forenoon and keep cool."

Spirits!" said Mr. L—, rather astonished. "Vy, dore, is no spirits in tea made of bran, sare?"

"Tea made of bran?" said his amazed friend, "It was hot brandy I drank!"

An explanation of course followed—the gentleman, however, was cured.

OPINION IN ENGLAND.—We have seen a letter from a distinguished British nobleman, and member of the Privy Council, received by a gentleman of Boston a few days since, in which, after alluding to the attacks of the London press, he says: Pray tell your friends not to judge of the opinions of England by her newspapers.* * *

There is no earth with which we are more anxious to be on terms of friendly alliance than the United States.—Boston Transcript.

Samples of a white blackberry have been received at the United States patent office, from Hon. John Law, of Evansville, Indiana. The plant is a native of this country, and is similar to the other blackberry except in the color of the root, which is white.

UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM TEXAS.—Hon. Thomas J. Rusk has been unanimously reelected, by the Legislature of Texas, United States Senator from that State.

BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.

Mr. Marqueta, the Nicaraguan Minister, has been dismissed by his own government. The question of the payment of the $3 million of dollars, of drafts drawn by Queen Anne, will, according to present prospects, be referred to the Senate.

If the tide serves the steam frigate Minnesota will be launched to-morrow at the Washington Navy Yard.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.—Lots of life.—We learn from the Richmond Dispatch that a fire-damp explosion occurred at the English Company's Black Heath Coal pits in Chesterfield county, Va., on Monday night last, resulting in the death of four men, and in the injury of three more.

The victims were as follows:

John Marshall, killed. He had his hand dreadfully crushed. He leaves a wife and seven children, all very young. Charles Thompson, killed: leaves a wife. Nicholas Luke, killed: leaves a wife and one child. Joseph Burton, killed: leaves a wife and three children. George Cotton aged, 20 years had a leg broken and crushed. A colored boy, named William Wright, bruised and burned seriously. Fourteen others who were below at the time of the explosion were not injured, and came out safely.

The scene at the pit on Tuesday was most distressing. The sight of the bodies of the dead and the sufferings of the wounded were of the most painful nature. The melancholy scenes was heightened by the lamentations of the families of the dead, all of which were exceedingly helpless.

ATROGIC MURDER.—At Baltimore, on Sunday night, a party of five young men entered the Washington Hotel, a tavern at the corner of Eutaw and Camden streets, and having drank freely they refused to pay for the liquor. The proprietor's brother, Eugene Broader, attempted to help the barkeeper to put the party out. One of them named John Fanning drew a pistol and shot Eugene killing him instantly. Another of the gang named Charles Robinson attempted to murder the proprietor of the house, but both the balls fired by him fortunately lodged in the floor. All the party were arrested and committed to jail.

VILLAINOUS ACT.—On Sunday evening, while the minister was addressing the congregation of the M. E. Church, at Orange, New Jersey the galleries were observed to settle down suddenly, and the pillars to give way. A rush was instantly made for the doors, but fortunately no one was injured. It was afterwards ascertained that some scoundrels had removed the props which supported the floor of the church, no doubt for the purpose of precipitating the congregation into the cellar.

Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries.
Baltimore, Md., 26th June, 1855.
CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUD.
The Commissioner of the Maryland State
Lotteries has deemed it his duty to caution
the Public against the numerous Swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise fraudulent Lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fraudulent.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioner elected by the people of the State under the new Constitution to examine and inquire the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithographed signature F. X. BREYAN, General Agent for the Contractor, Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md.;
All others are fraudulent.

For further information on the subject
these frauds, address F. X. BREYAN,
